

2021 GSIPP 17th Annual Pain Summit

SPEAKERS

Dawood Sayed, MD

Dr. Sayed is a national expert in the field of Neuromodulation for Chronic Pain and is the Current President of American Society of Pain and Neuroscience (ASPN).

He is an Associate Professor at the Univ. of Kansas Medical Center. Dr Sayed serves as the Director of the Center of Neuromodulation for Pain and is the Program Director of the Multidisciplinary Pain Fellowship at The University of Kansas Hospital

Sean Li, MD

Sean Li, MD specializes in interventional pain management. His clinical interest is in neuromodulation therapy such as spinal cord stimulation, high-frequency stimulation, dorsal root ganglion stimulation and peripheral nerve stimulation. In addition to his work at National Spine & Pain Centers, Dr. Li continues to serve as an attending physician at Riverview Medical Center in Red Bank, NJ. He has published numerous professional articles and written textbook chapters on the topic of pain and is actively involved in clinical research that will help advance the field of interventional pain medicine.

Corey Hunter, MD

Corey Hunter, MD, is founder and executive director at the Ainsworth Institute of Pain Management in New York City. He also serves as an assistant clinical professor of physical medicine and rehabilitation in the PM&R Department at the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai Hospital in New York. Dr. Hunter is board-certified in physical medicine and in rehabilitation and pain medicine and serves on the board of directors for the North American Neuromodulation Society, the International Neuromodulation Society, and the American Society of Pain and Neuroscience.

Samer Narouze, MD, PhD

Samer Narouze, MD, PhD is currently the chairman of the Center for Pain Medicine at Western Reserve Hospital in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. He is considered a national expert and thought leader in Headaches and Pain Medicine. He recently founded the American Interventional Headache Society (AIHS) and he is on the board of directors for the American Society of Regional Anesthesia and Pain Medicine (ASRA) and serves in many committees for the American Academy of Pain Medicine and other national and international headache and pain organizations

Naum Shaparin, MD, MBA

Naum Shaparin, MD, MBA, is Director of the Multidisciplinary Pain Program at Montefiore Medical Center. He also serves as an Associate Professor of Anesthesiology, Family & Social Medicine and Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation at the Albert Einstein College of Medicine. He is the Immediate Past President of the Eastern Pain Association and is a member of numerous organizations and committees. Dr. Shaparin has lectured and published extensively on various topics related to acute pain medicine and chronic pain medicine.